

The Ventilating Neck Ribbon Stock.

(Now Keep Cool.)

The ventilating frame for draping neck ribbons. The stock is excellent. It holds the ribbon in any position, permits circulation of air, and will prevent the nagging sore throat incident to wearing ribbon closely wrapped around the neck. 25c. Each.

Boys' Wash Suits Reduced.

Look this way, parents. We took all the Wash Suits that did not sell as rapidly as they ought and piled them together, so as to find out what was wrong with them. A critical inspection brought us to the conclusion that the very fancy suits invariably sold best. That settled it. All our Boys' Wash Suits, in sizes 9 to 16 years, formerly sold for $1.58, are put together on a big table for 98c.

(Main Floor—Left.)

A curious state of affairs among the Wash Fabric folks puts money into the pocket of every shopper at our Domestic counters Monday and Tuesday. Goods talked about to-day ought to last for our Tuesday friends. The making of too much goods kept the mill hands hard at work to make it in time for a big summer trade. There was an overproduction, and now the mill owners are working overtime to unload their products, and the cutting goes merrily on, and we "buy up" only when the goods are way, way down. Our man on the grounds sends us the goods indicated here.

2,100 Oxford Shoes Came in Time for a Big Saturday.Some of All Are Here for Monday.

If the shoes are not all and more than we say you have only lost a little time. Such a sale as this is possible only where there is a panic among shoemakers who have tremendous stocks that can only be sold at panic prices, because each cuts the other until the cost and value lose significance, and the only endeavor is to sell—sell. Once more we say every pair is worth $2. The lot consists of heavy and light Oxford, soft and pliable, easy to the feet and in almost any style you could wish for in a cosy, dressy, or walking Summer Shoe.

The Meyer Store.Foushee and Broad.*The Meyer Store.*Foushee and Broad.*The Meyer Store.*Foushee and Broad.*The Meyer Store.*MUCH MIXED FACTIONS.*Why Shenandoah Calls a Second Convention.

WOODSTOCK, VA., June 30.—Special.—The factional difficulties in the Democratic party of Shenandoah arose originally out of the seeming determination of the parties who were in control of the county organization to perpetuate their hold on the party machinery when they knew the people desired a change, by so calling meetings to select delegates, etc., as to prevent a county convention and consequent reorganization of the committee.

This led in June, 1898, to a county convention, which met under the sanction of a meeting of eighteen of the thirty members of the committee, which had been called for the purpose over the signatures of said eighteen members of the committee and with due notice of meeting to the committee.

This convention elected a committee. The members of the old committee, which were not left on the new committee, still claimed to act as a committee. The new committee then insisted that a joint call be issued by both committees for a convention to select a single committee. This the leaders of the old committee refused to do until spring of 1899, when, in order to nominate candidates for county offices a joint call was made. The convention met, and by resolution recognized both committees as parts of the Democratic organization, with directions to cooperate in their work.

This new (Rhodes) committee has always insisted on doing, but the old (Miley) committee has always refused to do.

In the summer of 1899 the old committee seemed inclined to accept a proposition for a joint convention, but were adjourned while the proposition was being considered. The new committee has never been together since, but the Miley Committee, as at present constituted, was published in the papers of September 1, 1899, as the Miley Committee, though there seems to have been no authority other than the mandate of the old chairman for its constitution.

In April, 1900, the Rhodes Committee made various propositions looking to a settlement by the party at home of the difficulty, but the Miley Committee paid no attention, and called district meetings to send delegates to the Norfolk State Convention. The Rhodes Committee mat and endorsed the Miley Committee's call, and called upon all Democrats to take part, regardless of faction. The result was that wherever the Miley followers were in the majority the Rhodes followers were permitted to participate, but where the Rhodes followers were in the majority the Miley followers left and held separate meetings.

This resulted in dual delegations from five districts to Norfolk, where the Rhodes delegates were sent from three districts and the Miley delegates from two, there being no contest as to the Sixth district.

In order to prevent the Rhodes Democrats from going to Norfolk, where the Miley Committee held their primaries to send delegates to the Congressional Convention on one day's notice, and coupled with their call a condition that required all who would participate to bind themselves to continue to recognize the Miley Committee in future, thus depriving the Democrats of the right to select another committee if they choose.

This No Democrat would do, hence a second convention open to all Democrats has been called to send delegates to the Congressional Convention.

A BUG IN HER EAR.Narrow Passage in Shenandoah a Natural Wonder.

WOODSTOCK, VA., June 30.—Special.—Mrs. L. S. Walker, of Woodstock, has suffered a great deal during the past few weeks with what was thought to be an abscess or gathering in her ear. After several careful examinations had been made by Dr. W. S. Cline, the attending physician, on last Saturday some foreign matter was found, which, being extracted, proved to be a large black bug.

Narrow Passage and Narrow Passage Road, situated about two miles south of Woodstock, take their names from the narrow passage on the turnpike between the Shenandoah River and the creek, there being barely room for two teams to pass each other. The distance from the road to the river on the south side is about 150 feet, and to the creek on the north about 75 feet. In many respects the top of this passage resembles that of the road which crosses the Natural Bridge.

Mr. George W. Phillips, of New Market, Va., a well known and respected citizen, died at his home a few days ago in his sixty-ninth year. Mr. Phillips was a gallant Confederate veteran and served throughout the war, serving in Rice's celebrated battery.

The citizens of New Market, Va., are preparing to celebrate the Fourth of July. Judge P. S. Tanner, of Woodstock, will deliver an address on this occasion. At night a fine display of fireworks will be given. A number of special attractions have been secured, and if the day is fair a large crowd will be in attendance.

Bank Statement.

NEW YORK, June 30.—The weekly bank statement shows the following changes: Surplus reserve, increase, $1,322,255; loans, decrease, $1,557,200; specie, increase, $58,400; legal tenders, increase, $131,850; deposits, decrease, $2,733,300; circulation, increase, $91,200. The banks now hold $16,500,000 in excess of the requirements of the 5 per cent rule.
